The Great Event of the Season at the State Capitall—Scenes and Incidents Occurring During the President's Visit. CHARLESTON, June 29th, 1874.

ditors of the Intelligencer : Dispatches from this point have already posted you in regard to the arrival and departure of His Excellency, the President of the United States. Perhaps I can said a few lines to what has been said that will be of interest to your readers. The visit has been the event of the season with this community, and is the first inciwith this community, and is the first inci-dent of the kind within its existence

Nowithstanding Virginia was the mother of Presidents, yet not one of them ever paid a visit to the Kanswha Valley, either during his term of office or subsequent thereto, so far as I am informed. There-THE NEWS OF THE PRESIDENTS COMING

On Friday evening last dispatches were received here from the White Bulpher forming a white man's and a black man's party in Louisians, to oppose each other in the coming elections. The Republican is very decided in its opposition to this dangerous and unreasonable movement.

Madrid, July 2.—The luneral of Gen.
Manuel Concha took place to day. The exercises were imposing, and a crowd of spectators were in the line. The procession was immense, Marshal Serano and all his Cabinet Ministers followed the coffie. The Carlist force at E-itella numbers 83,000 men. Gen. Zabola has 106 cannons, and has hopes of his speedy victory. The Carlists energetically deny,

Iowa Railroad Tariffs.

Sr. Paul, July 2.—The Railroad Commissioners appointed under the recent legislative act have prepared a schedule for freight and passenger tariff. The usual local passenger farea have been five centa per mile. This rate the Commissioners reduced to four or four and a hail cents per mile on the Iowa & Minnesota division of the Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad, and to three and a haif cents on the river division of the same road. The general manager of the Sioux City & St. Paul Railroad, in alluding to the official schedule says we cannot run any cheaper the trains that have been run, nor have we any reserve to pay expenses not earned. If the people on the line of the road are unwilling to pay our prices for transportation, first class passers. penses not earned. If the people on the line of the road are unwilling to pay our prices for transportation, first class passenger trains will be discontinued and such accommodation given to passengers as can be given at four cents a mile. Alluding to the fact that the Sioux road rons through a region devastated by grass-hoppers. He says that this company shared with the people in their disasters and poverty of the past year, always doing its utmost to make misfortunes as light as possible to the public and it will ever be its policy to afford to the people it serves the best accommodations at the lowest prices within its means.
